

Population growth might outrun positive efforts in electrification in Sub-Saharan Africa.

Unless something urgent is done, we might face...

45 million more people in Africa without access to electricity by 2030

Glimpse of hope for electrification in SSA

But the population growth might outrun it

More data stories

Access to electricity

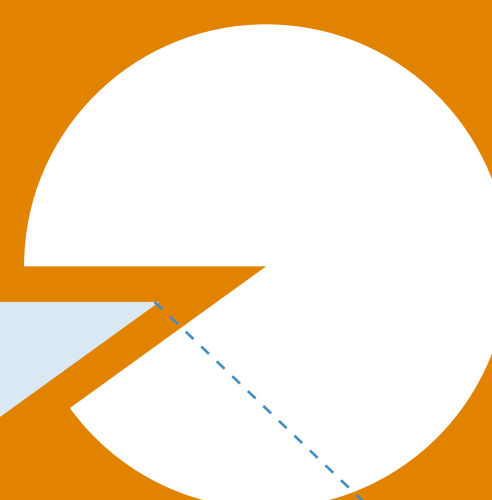

Four of ten Africans have access to electricity compared to about nine of ten people globally.

4/10
in Africa

9/10
globally

VS

% of population with access to electricity

Global energy access deficit

